Thought for the Day

A word and the skies would brighten,
A word and the clouds would fly;
A word and the soul finds healing,
And hurt hearts cease to sigh.
Oh, word ere too late be spoken,
Let the threshold of silence be crossed,
Ere the thread of thy fate be broken
And thy chance forever lost.
Mark Griswold.

Misses Mary and Anna McDowell are at home from a short visit to Mrs. J. J. Gerig at her Lake Weir cottage. Mrs. Gerig and Miss Margaret Gerig expect to come home tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Camp and sons returned to Lake Weir this afternoon after a stay at their home here since Monday.

Miss Irma Blake has invited a number of her friends to a musical which she will give next Tuesday evening at 8:30 at Mr. Herbert Lattner's studio. This affair will be one of the very nicest given this season and is being eagerly anticipated. Miss Blake is one of Ocala's most winsome and talented musicians; she is a graduate in voice and piano, receiving her degrees from the Woman's College at Tallahassee. Miss Blake's accompanist will be Miss Mamie Gross of this city.

A telegram received late last evening announcing the death of Mrs. Julian Carr at Durham, N. C., has cast a gloom over the hearts of the host of friends of the Carr family in this city. Mrs. Carr passed away at the Carr summer home, Hillsborough, near Durham, the end coming suddenly and unexpectedly. General Carr was a recent visitor to this city, coming especially to be in attendance upon the marriage of his cousin, Miss Josephine Bullock to Mr. Thantam of Tallahassee.

Mrs. Chester A. Fort and family left today for Oklawaha, where they have taken one of Dr. Henry's cottages for a season.

Miss Hallie Ley, who for two years has had charge of the kindergarten work of the English Classical school, is in the city for a few days' visit to her sister, Mrs. T. F. Alexander, in Suburb Beautiful. Miss Ley's many friends and former patrons will regret to learn that she will not be in school work in Tampa this winter, although her old position was open to her and urged upon her by Miss White, principal of the English Classical school. In view of the fact that her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Ley now reside in Orlando, and that she has a most flattering offer to open kindergarten work in that city, she has definitely decided to accept the offer tendered. A feature, therefore, of her present visit is to superintend the packing and shipping of her furniture and fixtures to her new home. —Tampa Times.

Miss Winnifred Cobb, after a short visit to Dr. and Mrs. W. K. Lane, left yesterday afternoon for Brooksville, where she joined her parents, en route to Dunedin, where they will visit for some time. Miss Cobb will be with Mrs. Lane for another visit of a few days en route to her home in Tallahassee.

Mr. Morris Smith spent yesterday and today in the city the guest of his father, Dr. D. M. Smith and family, leaving late this afternoon for Orlando, where he will remain the following week, enjoying a much needed vacation.

Mrs. N. I. Gottlieb and daughter, Miss Nellie Gottlieb have returned from a fortnight stay at North Lake Weir.

Mrs. J. S. Sisson and daughter, Miss Sadie Hope of Jacksonville, are guests for a few days of Mrs. Sisson's brother, Mr. J. B. Carlisle and family.

Mrs. W. D. Caldwell has as her guests at her home on South Lime street her sister, Mrs. Inez White of Memphis, Tenn. They leave today for a week's stay on the shores of beautiful Lake Weir.

Mrs. A. J. Leavengood and daughter Miss Ollie, have returned from a week's visit with relatives at Stanton.

Capt. J. D. Young came in yesterday afternoon from an extended stay at his beautiful farm in Virginia. Captain Young also spent some time in Washington and Atlanta. He left immediately for Mucland, where he makes his home at the residence of Mr. Gus Waters.

Mr. Bethel Gallagher and Mr. Edward Tucker are entertaining a number of friends this evening at a chicken pillau on the banks of Silver Springs. The crowd went down early in the afternoon in time to enjoy the bathing, after which the picnic supper will be prepared by Chas. Gallagher, Tucker and Johnson. The fried chicken, of course, will be rivalled by heaping pots of delicious pillau, pickles, rolls and the innumerable other good things that go to make an affair of this character far excellent. The party will return by moonlight.

Those enjoying this bounteous supper party with Messrs Gallagher and Tucker are Misses Ellen Leigh, Virginia Sistrunk, Ethel Haycraft, Tommy Standley, Etta Hood Robinson, Margaret Walters, Lois Dame, Alice Bullock, Messrs. Nelson Geise and Holmes Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Leigh, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Leavengood, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Ponder and Mrs. Howard Walters.

W. M. S. Literary Meeting

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will hold its literary meeting on Friday August 20th at 4 p. m., promptly; topic "Our Home Mission Schools."

Following is the program.

- 1.—Apostle's Creed.
- 2.—Hymn; Holy, Holy.
- 3.—Prayer.
- 4.—Scripture Lesson.
- 5.—Ruth Hargrave Institute, Key West, Florida; Dr. Gross.
- 6.—Holding Institute, Laredo, Texas; Miss Mamie Gross.

- 9.—Statistical Record of our Home Mission Schools; Mrs. J. Walter Hood.
- 10.—Benediction.

Mrs. W. K. Zewadski, Leader.

Mrs. S. G. Moyers returned this afternoon from an overnight visit to Jacksonville. She was accompanied home by her son, Mr. George Moyers, who has been spending the summer with relatives in Virginia.

Mr. Herring and family of Plant City, who have been occupying the Bradford cottage at the lake for several months, returned to their home today. Mrs. Herring was formerly Miss Leila White of this city. She is a sister of Mrs. Joe White and has many friends here who were pleased to meet her again.

One of the largest parties ever camped on the banks of Salt Springs is being enjoyed this week by seventy-five or more citizens from Citra and surrounding vicinity. The woodland surrounding these wonderful springs presents a beautiful picture and is a veritable white city, tents being pitched seemingly in almost every available nook.

Miss Beulah Hall and Miss Ethel Harrell will leave soon for South Carolina, where both young ladies have accepted positions to teach in schools the coming season.

Miss Lou Moody and her house guest, Miss Pauline Coulter of Atlanta, were guests of friends in the city yesterday afternoon.

Miss Emma Washburn and Miss Leila Frampton are guests for today of Miss Agnes Crago at her home north of the city. This evening the ladies will go to Griner Farm to participate in the silver medal contest, returning home by moonlight after the exercises.

Miss Agnes Crago has accepted the position of teacher at the Griner Farm school for the coming term. The fall term opens the latter part of the present month.

Miss Edith Williams will have as her guest next week Miss Pauline Coulter of Atlanta.

Mrs. G. W. Cleveland will return home tonight after spending a week with her son, Mr. Wilbur Cleveland, at the Hotel Kibler in Lakeland and her niece, Mrs. G. S. Davis of Dunellon.

Mrs. Marcus Frank and children, who have been visiting relatives in Savannah and in the mountains of North Carolina, returned home this afternoon. Mr. Frank met them in Jacksonville.

The literary class of the missionary society will meet Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Methodist church. An interesting program has been prepared.

Mrs. Clarence Philips and three interesting little daughters Irma, Mary Ellen and Lounita, arrived this evening from Jacksonville and will spend two weeks with Mrs. Philips' sister, Mrs. George Taylor.

The many friends of Rev. and Mrs. Roy Bowers will regret to learn that they are contemplating making their home in Eustis this coming winter. Rev. Bowers considering accepting the principalship of the Eustis high school. Ocala will lose one of her best families and it is sincerely hoped they will reconsider and continue to make this city their home.

Ocala Chapter No. 29, O. E. S., will celebrate the birthday of Robert Morris, founder of the order, by giving a basket picnic at Silver Springs, August 31st. The chapter has invited several other chapters to join them and a splendid time is anticipated.

with bamboo lances at a small wreath suspended some twelve feet from the ground. Riding at full speed at this object, the masked knight who could bear it off on his spear point was to be adjudged the victor and as the best horseman of all the knights of Fairfax would crown the maid of his choosing as queen of love and beauty, and also by the presentation of great bouquets ready at hand select the queen's attendant ladies of honor.

The bugles blew. Sheriff Swain as knight seneschal distributed the lances, and the knights lined up far down the track. The bugles blew again, and on they came, twenty of them abreast, wearing the sashes of their ladies, masked and plumed and all intent upon bearing off the guerdon.

Blair Stanley, on a light bay hunter, wearing the crimson sash favor of Vivian Marston, was in the lead; close behind was a knight on a white horse with a black star on its forehead. A strange horse to Fairfax, where every horse and man of blood is known. What horse was it, and who was the rider? He wore a snow white scarf and sat his horse as became a Virginia gentleman—or perhaps a Kentuckian.

Blair in the lead swerved to block the oncoming knights behind him, but the stranger seemed to be prepared for the ruse. He spurred his horse around and crossed in the very front of Blair. The shock threw the bay hunter over, and Blair fell headlong to the ground, and the strange knight's spear point lifted the wreath they strove for from the wire. As Blair fell he got a glimpse of the horseman who had unseated him, close up. And then Blair Stanley knew him. It was Arthur Stanley!

A surge of hate and humiliation raged in the bosom of Blair to be unseated in the presence of Vivian Marston, to whom he had boasted he would bear off the wreath and crown her on her first day in Fairfax as queen of love and beauty!

He jumped from the scene to where Sheriff Swain stood by the end of the grand stand, watching the surprising end of the contest and ceasing from his clumsy jesting with his handcuffs at Quibba.

The defeated knights, with the exception of the unhorsed Blair, who had limped away, ranged their horses in a semicircle and held their lances at salute.

Arthur, bearing the queen's crown and the bouquets, approached the white faced, trembling Esther and said in a feigned voice, "Crown thee queen of love and beauty!" Then he presented the bouquets of the ladies of honor to the nearest women—Vivian Marston and Mrs. Burton Randolph.

At the far end of the grand stand the raging Blair was pointing to the victor and saying, "That is Arthur Stanley, the murderer of Dr. Lee. Go and get him!"

Hardly knowing what he was doing, but in anger at the clumsy, jesting sheriff, a wild idea to discomfit that official and the unhorsed informer for the sake of the gallant looking victor seized Quibba. With a deft clutch of his quick fingers he clasped the dangle end of the handcuffs to the wrist of Blair. The other end was around the sheriff's wrist, and that eager official and the informer were soon wildly pulling in opposite directions. Leaving his organ and carrying the frightened monkey in his arms, the nimble hunchback ran through the grand stand and whispered his warning to Arthur.

At this very moment, obedient to a significant look from Blair's mother,

It Was Arthur Stanley!

Mrs. Randolph and Vivian Marston had pointedly thrown down the bouquets and had turned their backs on Esther. The queen of love and beauty was unacknowledged and dethroned.

At this open and direct humiliation of the daughter of Hagar the whole assembly grew still as death and the hoarse shouts of the handcuffed sheriff were heard, "Stop that man! He is Arthur Stanley, wanted for murder!"

A loud roar burst from the excited throng. Men springing to their feet and women screaming, Arthur, at the cry from Esther to save himself, ran down the aisle and, clearing the rail at a bound, vaulted on his horse, snatching the reins from the negro lad as he did so. But at the brazen commands of the sheriff the masked knights closed in on Arthur and, heaving him round, drove him and his horse toward the grand stand, struggling, fighting for life and liberty.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.
